Why Choose Feline Greenies?

Posted At : April 4, 2008 2:57 PM | Posted By : Michelle Mccord

Related Categories: Dog Food and Cat Food

There are numerous treats out there for your cat. What makes one cat treat better than another? It depends on the benefits you are looking to receive. As far as dental treats go, Feline Greenies should be your first choice. But what makes them so good?

Feline Greenies are 100% nutritionally complete and balanced for your adult cat. They are formulated with additional vitamins, minerals, and taurine to help supplement your cat's regular diet. Feline Greenies have no artificial flavors, colors, or preservatives, and are only 2 calories per piece. Their unique teeth cleaning shape is clinically proven to help reduce tartar and plaque build up.

Cats are notoriously picky eaters, but they love Feline Greenies. Numerous tests by cats have indicated that they are completely satisfied with the taste. Available in five mouthwatering flavors, Ocean Fish, Oven Roasted Chicken, Savory Salmon, Succulent Beef, and Tempting Tuna, you are certain to find one your cat will devour.

Feline Greenies may be fed as a snack in conjunction to your cat's regular diet. They are recommended for any breed of cat, aged 10 to 12 months and up. Feline Greenies are not recommended for kittens under 10 months of age. For optimal dental benefits, feed Greenies Cat Treats to your cat daily. Be sure to monitor your pet while he eats his treats, and always provide fresh water for your cat.